FOUNDER OF MANIPAL

Late Shri Dr. T M A Pai Padma Shri Awardee (1898 – 1979)

Born on 30th April 1898 at Kallianpur of Udupi District of Karnataka, Dr Tonse Madhav Ananth Pai was a self-made man who could understand the local problems, and his desire to serve the people motivated him to find ways and means commensurate with the conditions prevailing in those days. He had a great fascination for spreading education among youth from less privileged backgrounds in particular. He set up premier institutions such as the Kasturba Medical College Manipal in 1953 as the first non-missionary self-financing medical college in the private sector in India occupying the 29th place among the Medical Colleges started in India since 1835, created massive change and development in the educational circles. Continuing his thrust for providing higher education opportunities to the youth, he set up professional colleges of Engineering, Nursing, Pharmacy, and Dental Sciences at Manipal. He was keen to make the Manipal campus a university seat and presented the case to the state and the central Governments. Dr.T.M.A Pai was conferred the prestigious Padma Shri Award by the President of India in 1965. Earlier the Government of Mysore had honoured him with the Public Service Award in 1962, and in 1974, the Mysore University honoured him with the Doctor of Science (Honoris Caus) degree. The secrets of his success were his vision to see what was needed and what was possible and his courage to start new institutions where others felt impossible to succeed. His philosophy was one of service to one's family, friends and the world's people as God's one big family. He lived through his philosophy and his name will be forever etched in people's memory.

MBA has provided me the ability to look at things in a holistic way, apply systems thinking. It helped me with tools and methodology that enable me day in and out to prioritize the solutions that can solve critical and majority of the problems and not dwell on trying to find a solution for every problem. It also allowed me to look at all aspects in life – personal and professional, from the perspective of causality. This helps tremendously in understanding the root cause and arriving at a solution much quicker. Finally, it helped me understand that the problems need to be tackled first and head-on.

The 2000-02 TAPMI stint remains one of my life's best experiences to date. The "Outbound" learning program made me a man in 2001. TAPMI's perceived locational disadvantage (Manipal's absence of immediate access to the major cities in India), during the early 2000's, has emerged as its biggest strength and USP, more so after the advent of Covid, thanks to the all-pervading virtual world. The focus of the entire faculty as well as students is on intense academic rigor, on the stand-alone campus, for 2 years. This intensity in academics, nestled in its sprawling campus and state of the art infrastructure, along with TAPMI's diversely successful alumni will stand the institute in good stead in the near future.

TAPMI transformed my approach to life!

I joined TAPMI in 2004 after working for 4 years in multiple software engineering roles in the IT industry. TAPMI helped me structure my thinking and approach towards solving problems – both at the workplace as well as in personal life. It helped to build a strong foundation in my specialized streams of marketing and IT systems but also in general management. This has helped me to successfully navigate and enjoy my career across multiple management and leadership roles as well as across multiple geographies. In all, I would say transform with TAPMI to become a future leader.
